Cubans Report Invasion Force From America

By HAROLD K. MILKS

HAVANA (AP)—A platoon-sized invasion force from the United States has landed in east Cuba and headed into the mountains after suffering three casualties in a battle with militia men, the Armed Forces Ministry announced today.

A ministry communique said the landing was made by 27 men, including three Americans, "at dawn yesterday" on a bay midway between the towns of Baracoa and Moa, the site of a nationalized American mining company. The area is in Oriente Province, the revolutionary stamping grounds of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The communique was undated, and it was not specified whether the reported landing was Tuesday or Wednesday. The battle apparently occurred a few hours after the force touched shore.

The commander of the invasion force was killed and two of the men—wounded—were captured, the ministry said.

The commander was identified as Armentino Peria, a follower of Cuban ex-Sen. Rolando Masferrer.

Masferrer, a wealthy backer of the deposed President Fulgencio Batista, is a refugee in the United States.

35 Convicts Are Given Paroles

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Thirty-five convicts have been granted paroles by the State Parole Board.

The board Wednesday recommended for clemency 10 other prisoners, whose names will not be revealed until Gov. Orval E. Faubus acts on the recommendations.

Relates How Firm Handled Stock Deals

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The bankrupt Arkansas Business Development Corp. once paid $2 a share for stock when the par value was 20 cents, a former treasurer of the company told a federal bankruptcy hearing.

William G. Beard, testifying Wednesday before Federal Bankruptcy Judge C. J. C. Smith, said the stock transaction involved 1,000 shares held by minor children of Alan C. Springer, former ABCD president.

Beard also testified that Springer once took out a stock certificate for $29,856 shares, paying for it with a note for about $159,000 then later cancelled the transaction.

Beard said this transaction, which he conceded was "fictitious," was made because Springer did not have enough proxy votes for management to have control at a stockholders meeting last December.

Beard also said that Springer organized American Business Development Corp. with the idea of branching out into other states and that ABCD charged its three subsidiary firms a management fee.

Hubert J. Crouch, former president of Financial Security Corp., a stock-selling ABCD subsidiary, testified that Springer once insisted that his firm buy about 2,000 shares of stock from Dr. C. C. Melton of Fayetteville, an ABCD director, at a price above par.

Attorneys have conducted a series of hearings into ABCD dealings since it was declared bankrupt.

Springer is to testify at a hearing Monday.

Police Can't Find Pair in Mountains

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—The search for outlaw Joe Hildebrand and his 19-year-old sweetheart continued today in the Boxley-Kingston Red Star area on the Madison-Newtown county line about 30 miles south of here.

State Police said the fugitives were believed to be surrounded in a triangular area between the communities. The area includes some of the most rugged terrain in the Ozarks.

Officers said a farmer in the area reported his cellar was raided last night. Officers surmised Hildebrand was seeking food.

They said he apparently has not had anything to eat since early Tuesday when he abandoned a stolen car near Boxley.

State Police and sheriff's deputies were maintaining a 24-hour vigil for the 24-year-old Hildebrand from the law has drawn nationwide attention since Miss Standridge joined him in the hills Sept. 5.

Hildebrand has been on the run since last November when he failed to return to the Arkansas State Prison after a furlough granted so he could visit his ailing father.

The slender, blond native of the Dover area hid out around his home for almost a year, as neighbors and friends sympathized with his duel with authority. The search for him was intensified after Miss Standridge joined him Tuesday and it became an all-out effort last Saturday.

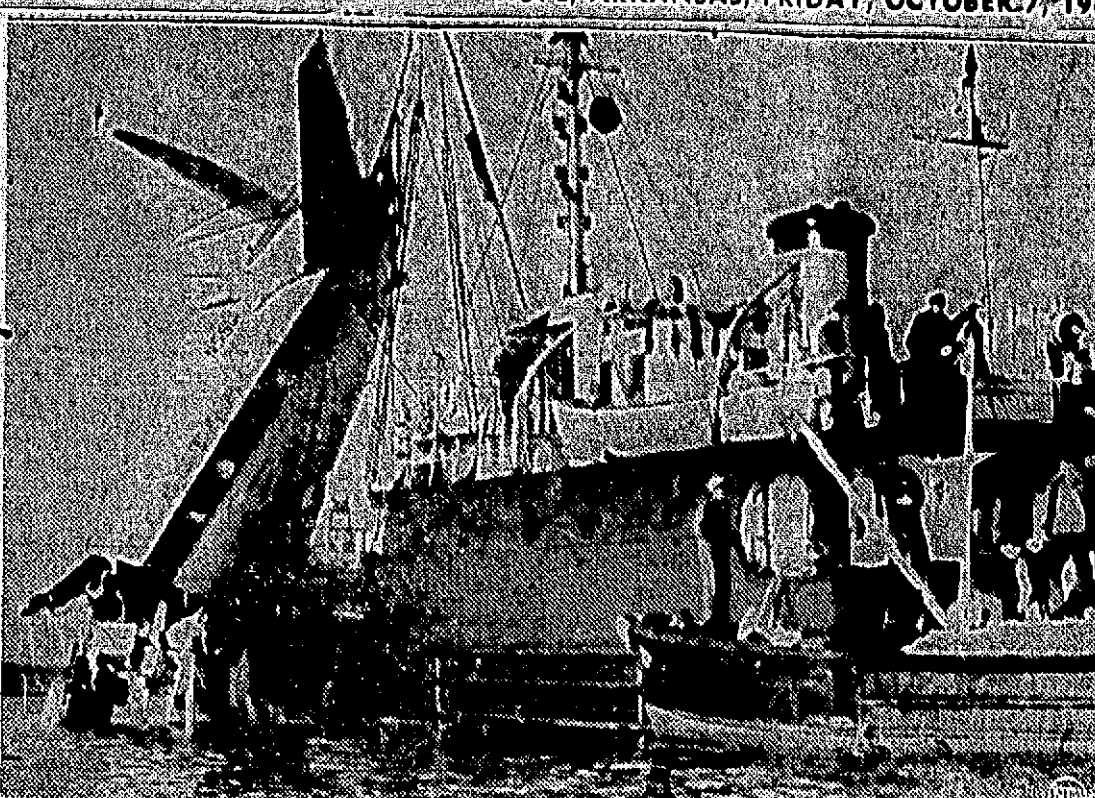

Police tracked him from the Dover area to the area where the search is now concentrated by a trail of stolen cars and break-ins.

Hildebrand was sentenced to a three-year prison term for robbery.

Bitten by Lion

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Doctors sought today to determine the cause of a lingering infection after Philip Berkes Jr., 38, who was bitten on the finger by a lion while visiting a zoo Sept. 24, had more of his left arm amputated.

Berkes Wednesday had his arm amputated near the shoulder at Montgomery Hospital. The lower part of the arm was amputated last Saturday.

Lodge Swings Campaign to Oregon

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge, after a swing through California, brought the Republican campaign to this college town in western Oregon today.

The GOP vice-presidential candidate was met by an enthusiastic crowd of 700, mostly students from Oregon State College, when his plane landed late Wednesday night.

He was scheduled for a mid-day speech at the college today, then was to go on to Portland for a nighttime rally.

Here he was in a Republican stronghold in a state where Democrats hold a slight registration lead. The noise of reception indicated it was Republican land.

The smiling Lodge ignored a stiff wind to speak briefly. He said this nation needs to do more than just score over the Communists.

"We need to reach a new plateau to bring lasting peace," he said.

768 Schools Now Desegregated

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A total of 768 southern and border school districts started operating on a desegregated basis this fall, Southern School News has reported.

Seventeen districts desegregated for the first time this fall, five of them in Virginia.

The News also noted that the South's public schools opened this fall without violence for the first time since the Supreme Court's ruling in 1954.

"Major violence, ranging from boycotts and mob action to bombings, had marked the school openings in the region for the previous six years," the publication said.

Southern School News, supported by the Ford Foundation, reports developments in desegregation.

Africans Vote to Cut Loose From Britain

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A diminishing anti-republican lead indicated today that South Africans have voted to cut their country loose from the British crown.

The forces opposing Nationalist Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's plan to join the British Commonwealth nation into a republic still clinging to a lead of 102,000 votes with 80 of the 156 districts reported. But many heavily Nationalist rural districts were yet to be heard from.

Prof. Arthur Vlekley, running an electrical computer, predicted the margin in favor of a republic would approach 80,000 when all the votes were in from Wednesday's referendum.

United party leader Sir De Villiers Graaff, who led the anti-republicans, not yet conceded.

Unrest Reported in the Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations today reported continuing unrest in the Congo interior, mostly caused by workers' dissatisfaction with their pay.

Worker demonstrations were reported in Stanleyville and elsewhere. There were no reports of casualties.

Leopoldville was relatively quiet. Trucksloads of Congolese troops, accompanied by armored cars, were seen driving through the streets of the city in what appeared to be merely a show of strength by Col. Joseph Mobutu, the reigning strong man.

Nixon Policy Too Costly, Kennedy Says

By ARTHUR EDSON

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today Republican policies, backed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, have cost the federal government $2 billion in income and caused a million workers to lose their jobs.

"Republican unemployment," Kennedy called it. "The Democratic presidential nominee made his statements in a speech here and in a statement he released just before leaving Indianapolis this morning."

Kennedy said the midyear budget report shows what is happening in this country.

"Rising unemployment and slack business conditions will cause a loss of at least $2 billion in anticipated revenue," Kennedy said.

He contended that had business remained good the budget would have had enough money to pay for some of his favorite pieces of legislation. Or as he put it: "The $2 billion loss of budgeted revenue would have fully financed the Democratic program of federal aid to education, the Democratic housing program, and the Democratic program for area redevelopment."

Kennedy chose this area, which has been hit hard by closing factories, to lash out at GOP economic views—and at Nixon.

Friday Is Day for the New Chevrolet

The seller of 1960 automobiles, Chevrolet promises to solidify its position in 1961 by significantly broadening its range of passenger cars.

Scheduled for display at dealer showrooms Friday, October 7, are 20 freshly styled conventional models, nine Corvairs including new passenger and commercial models, and the spirited two-place Corvete.

Complete new body styling which provides easier loading for both passengers and baggage and establishes new heights in moving comfort and convenience, is featured in the regular line of passenger cars.

The entire body, from floor to roof and grille to rear bumper, is all new. Prime design emphasis has been placed on functionalism with thrust.

High on the list of advantages of the all-new body are:

1. Easier entrance to passenger compartments.

2. Large, more accessible luggage space, with the trunk loading level lowered as much as 10.5 inches.

3. Improved chair height and over-the-hood visibility which will increase the ease of parking and add to driving safety.

4. Other safety items include improved brakes, overlap electric

Things Now Different for Nat King Cole

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The other night, Nat King Cole and his wife were in slight disagreement over the directions to Cole's

"I ought to know," he insisted. "Back in 1938, I used to take the Sunset bus near there to rehearse a radio singer at $5 a session."

Cole has come a long way since those days, so long that he is currently able to pass up $200,000 in bookings to fulfill a long ambition of appearing on Broadway.

"A lot of people think I'm crazy," he admits. "Especially the people in my own organization, because they can see that money going out the window. But this is something that means more to me than money."

"I reached a point in my career when I needed some added incentive. Sure, I was making lots of money in night clubs and concerts. But sometimes I'd find myself doing the work while my mind was somewhere else. I've been thinking for five years about accepting the challenge of a Broadway show. Finally I decided to do it."

The whole idea started when Cole recorded an album called "Wild Is Love," written by new comers Dolly Wayne and Ray Raschi. It was a story idea that seemed convertible into a stage musical. Later, it was decided to create a whole new musical based on the varying themes of love. The result was called "I'm With You."

Paul Gregory came in as producer, and the company of 35 is now in rehearsal under Bill Colerian's direction. The show will open in San Francisco and tour the Midwest in one-week stands before the Broadway opening after the first of the year.

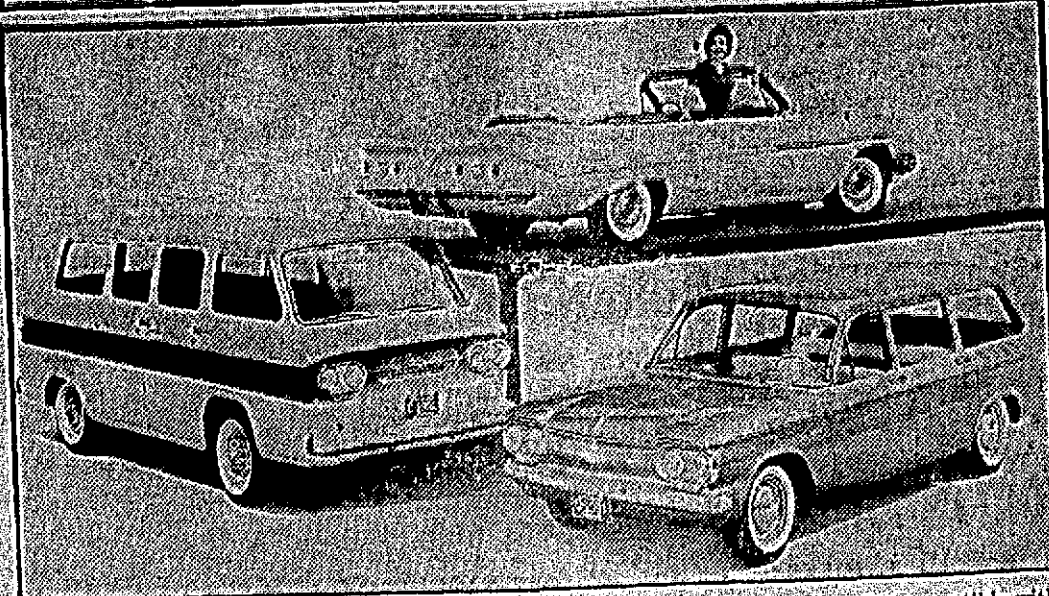

"I'm With You" is not a stand-and-musical. It's an impressionistic affair in which Cole will adopt many guises during the exposition of variations of love. Besides handling the singing chores, he will act as a kind of "Our Town" narrator from the side of the stage.

Judges Want More

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—

South Korean judges complained today they can't live decently on less than $100 a month. Fifty judges decided at a meeting today to petition the chief justice for drastic pay scale revisions that will guarantee them at least $150 or 190,000 hwan a month. Starting pay for a judge is now 45,000 hwan, or about $80.

Chevy adds Corvair Station Wagon

Chevrolet at last, admittedly, met the requirements of a roomy and versatile vehicle with the crisp, smart design of the Corvair line and came up with this sparkling new Corvair Lakewood Station Wagon. The car with its air-cooled engine in the rear, folding seat, and forward luggage compartment is readily adaptable to almost any job—commercial or pleasure. In addition to the Lakewood, Chevrolet added a sports wagon and three half-ton trucks to the Corvair line for '61.

DOROTHY DIX

"He That Is Without Sin, Let Him First Cast a Stone"

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

My husband and I have been married a few years and always thought we came from Christian parents. Now we found out the truth. My in-laws were not married three months when their baby—my husband—came.

It makes you feel like giving up when you can't trust parents. The sin is bad enough but the lie is a double sin. If they had told us the truth we would be out of this town and not have people whispering behind our backs.

We try to walk the straight and narrow way. Parents should let the children decide. Discouraged.

Dear Discouraged: I'm afraid the path you and your husband walk is too straight and too narrow. Don't confuse self-righteousness with Christianity. The cornerstone of Christ's philosophy was compassion. Say to the gossip, "He that is without sin, let him first cast a stone."

Dear Helen:

My mother made the mistake of not telling me the things every girl I have three little sisters by lead to disaster for a young girl. I have three little sisters ages 13, 11, and 9. Shall I ask my mother not to make the same mistake with them or should I tell them myself? Undecided.

Dear Undecided: Have a heart-to-heart talk with your mother. Explain how her silence on sex affected you. Beg her to tell your sisters about the facts of life. The three-year-old is, of course, too young. Your mother may surprise you by her willingness to speak out. Parents, too, grow up.

Dear Helen:

I believe you are "remarried" and happy in your second marriage. Not meaning to pry in your life, I wonder if you would give me some answers.

Our first husband and wife are dead. We have been married 7 years; my husband is 66; I am 54. He has two children; both married in homes of their own. I have four children, all married also. Do you both have children in your previous marriages? Do you share and share equal? Everything here has to be like my husband was always used to. We can't reach an understanding. My husband just won't talk. I feel more like a housekeeper than a wife. After seven years, a wife ought to be taken into her husband's confidence.

I would truly like to have a happy marriage. Am I childish? Should I stop caring, get a hobby and keep busy? My husband owns his farm but I do not own anything. Is this the trouble?—J.

Dear J.: Yes, I have been married twice and happily each time. My first husband had a son and daughter. My second has one son living. I've never had any children of my own but in a sense, relatives who needed care filled the void. Then there have been the stepchildren and their children. My stepchildren seem closer as the years pass, especially my two stepsons. I could count on them and they are in any crisis. However, we all lead our separate lives.

In both marriages I have gone on the principle that whatever was mine was my husband's and that the reverse was true. But by nature I am independent and like to keep up my end. I would rather give than take.

My first husband was outgoing and warm-hearted as is my second. We are forever coming home with gifts for each other. We never lack things to do and talk about.

But not all married couples are so constituted. Your husband may be a still-waters-run-deep type. If so, you'll have to take his silence in your stride and make the most of your own life. Self-sufficiency is the answer.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful letters available. Write for "A Happy Marriage."

Corvette Decks Out in New Style

Stepping out with a completely restyled rear deck and rear quarters of effect and trim appearance, the Chevrolet Corvair enters its eighth year as America's only production sports car.

For 1961, the sleek, two-passenger model also boasts several refinements which promise added convenience and owner satisfaction.

Among the improvements...

A new underbody makes possible a 19 per cent reduction in transmission tunnel width.

New body-to-rot sealing for both hard tops and convertibles more efficiently insulates interiors.

An aluminum case for four-speed transmissions. Weight of the unit is thus reduced 16 pounds.

A domed, heavy-duty piston and new cast-iron head for fuel injection engines, producing a compression ratio of 11 to 1.

Increased cooling capacity of the light-weight aluminum cross-flow radiators.

As in previous Corvettes, luxury cockpit treatment adds comfort and convenience to match the performance. Four upholstery colors—blue, black, red and fawn—are available with seven exterior paint schemes.

SHOW ON WORTH!

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR

More space... more spunk and wagons, too!

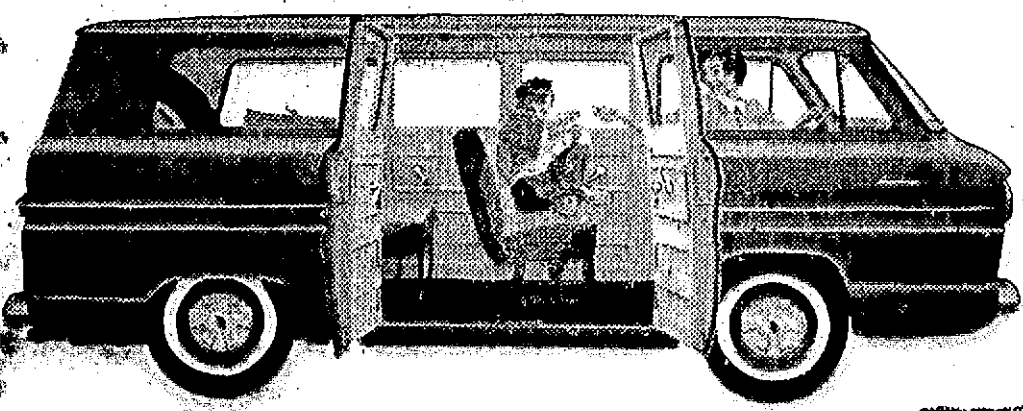

The newest car in America, the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans it has a longer range fuel tank.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its body by Fisher.

Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrifty cars.

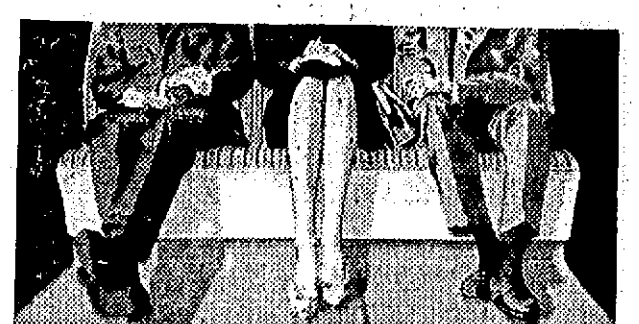

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon... quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner... a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everybody evenly. Riding along with this extra economy more room inside for you; more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have nearly 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things. Compare that with any other U.S. wagon going!

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Spare tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room for people and things as ordinary wagons (shown with optional extra-cost third seat in position).

SELL AND PROFIT... BUY AND SAVE... GET A BETTER JOB... HIRE GOOD HELP!

Chevrolet's ingenious, rear-powered Corvair blossoms out as a full line of automobiles for 1961. In addition to the three half-ton commercial cars previously announced, the company disclosed today that station and sports wagons will join the family at dealer showings of new models Friday, October 7.

Thus, the superior riding and performance qualities which the Corvair pioneered in the small car field a year ago will become available to a majority of all transportation requirements.

Here is the Corvair lineup for 1961: Passenger cars - Club coupes, four-door sedans and a new Lakeview Station Wagon in the "500" and "700" series plus the deluxe Monza Sport Coupe and the new Greenbrier Sports Wagons.

Commercial - Corvan, Rampside and Loadside trucks. In appearance, the latest Corvair retains its lithe, symmetrical form. New styling touches and beautified interiors clearly distinguish the models as 1961's, but the low-slung, appealing profile remains unchanged.

Also untouched are the engineering fundamentals which have made the Corvair and transmission-axle combination are continued at the rear. Compact body-frame integration lends its special staunchness to all models.

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) - Mississippi State, eager for more punch, scrimmaged for 30 minutes Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's invasion by Arkansas State.

The first three teams scrimmaged against the fourth and fifth teams, which ran Arkansas State plays.

Couch Wade Walker will begin tapering off with practices today and Thursday only 90 minutes long and no contact work. The Maroons will take the field Friday only for limbering up exercises.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS Guernsey School District No. 20 of Hempstead County, Arkansas, in compliance with the requirements of Act 403 of 1951 and of Amendment 40 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, have prepared, approved, and hereby make public the proposed budget of expenditures together with the tax rate as follows:

Pirates Happy But Respect Yankee Power

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, confident but not cocky after winning the opening game of the World Series, found out a couple of things about the New York Yankees that they suspected all along.

"They're like any other club," said Elroy Face. "They can be pitched to."

"And they can scare you," said Dick Groat.

"It was Face, the scrawny relief pitcher who helped the Bucs get far after 33 years between pennants, who saved the victory for starting pitcher Vernon Law. The little right-hander got rid of Yankee power with two on and none out in the eighth inning by striking out Mickey Mantle, retiring Yogi Berra on a fly, and fanning Bill Skowron.

"In the ninth, pinch-hitter Elston Howard tagged him for a two-run homer, but Face then ended it by getting Hector Lopez to hit into a doubleplay.

"We knew they had power," said Groat, pivot man at short on the wrapup doubleplay, "but they strike so fast."

"You go into the ninth inning and you figure you've got it made. And then bing, bing, bing! You're in trouble."

"The Pirates also were in trouble in the fourth inning, when Bill Virdon's running catch of Berra's long drive to right center saved a 3-1 lead. That catch, with Virdon reaching over Roberto Clemente as they bumped slightly, was the turning point.

"Hardly any of the Yankees saw Virdon in the first inning, when he pulled a delayed steal of second that caught Yankee shortstop Tony Kubek napping. Kubek drew the error after convincing the scorer that the responsibility was his, not Berra's—when no one was at second to take the throw by the Yankee catcher.

"Pitching was the Yankees' problem. "It was the type of game, I figure, where if we get any kind of pitching we win it because we get four runs," said Manager Casey Stengel.

"Pinch hit for (Clete) Boyer in the second inning because I'm trying to get even. How the hell do you know in the eighth or ninth inning you're going to get a man on base?"

"The best thing that club did was get my left fielder (Lopez) out, and you know he's the best to hit to right field. But they get him out."

Porks Wind Up Heavy Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks wind up heavy drills today in preparation for Saturday's important football game with the Baylor Bears.

Coach Frank Broyles stressed pass defense Wednesday, warning that the Bears probably will throw some to loosen up the defense even if they are moving the ball well on the ground.

The Porks will have nothing new in the way of offense for Baylor, Broyles said, but will continue the tactics which have brought three straight victories this season.

Review and a loosening up drill Friday will complete game preparations.

Woodrow Wilson was elected president in 1912 with 82 per cent of the electoral vote but only 42 per cent of the popular vote.

Baylor Going All Out on Offensive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's nothing like getting accustomed to working in the conditions you expect to have to work in, says Coach Jes Neely of Rice.

He probably wasn't making the Miami Chamber of Commerce feel very good about it but he said "We're likely to see this weather Saturday night and we might as well be prepared for it," as he sent his football squad through a scrimmage in mud and rain.

The Owls clash with Florida at Miami in a top intersectional game.

Baylor and Arkansas, who meet in the Big Southwest Conference game of the week at Fayetteville, were working against each other's strength.

Baylor was going all out on offense, thinking of the rugged Arkansas defense that held Texas Christian scoreless last week; Arkansas was stressing defense against passing, anticipating that the Golden Bears would be using the air lanes frequently.

Texas Christian hasn't been passing much, but Coach Abe Martin said at the end of practice Wednesday that he was sure glad they weren't playing Texas Tech immediately in view of the inability of his receivers to hold the ball.

Texas Tech was stressing passing, too, and getting results. The quarterback, Glen Amerson and Johnny Lovelace, were having a good day.

Dan Gurley, a regular halfback who has missed all three of Tech's games to date, appeared fully recovered from an injury. That means that Tech will be at full strength when it plays Texas Christian at Fort Worth Saturday night.

Things got gloomier than ever at Southern Methodist when regular end Pat Neill went out with a leg infection. The Methodists battle Navy at Norfolk, Va., Saturday.

Texas was cheered by the return of starting center Bill Laughlin, who had been out with a strep throat. Laughlin will be in

Crossell Gel Nod Over Hope in Dist. Fight

By WICK TEMPLE

Fort Smith and Little Rock Hall are favored to win Big Nine Conference games Friday night, remain undefeated, and become even favorites in the Big Nine race.

Half has followed the same path as last year, in which it surprised everyone in winning its first Big Nine title. Fort Smith has won four straight, including a victory over pre-season favorite El Dorado.

El Dorado is a one-point selection over Pine Bluff in a battle of darkhorses in El Dorado. Fort Smith is selected by six points over Little Rock Central and Hall is a two-point touchdown favorite over Blytheville.

Hot Springs is a one-touchdown favorite over Texarkana in a fight to stay out of the league cellar.

Rogers, the top-ranked team in Class AA, this week, is a heavy favorite over Class A Hunstville in a non-conference game. Helena is favored to continue its five-game streak in a bout with Class A Brinkley.

Wynne is a low-touchdown selection over Stuttgart in the top Region 2AA conference game. Wynne has won five straight.

Conway, the 10th-ranked team, is picked to beat Little Rock Catholic High and Crossell is favored over Hope in the top Region 4AA game.

Here's the week's outlook:
Fort Smith 19, Little Rock Central 13. Central was slow in its 7-0 victory over Hot Springs last week, and hasn't had the competition faced by Fort Smith.

El Dorado 14, Pine Bluff 13. The home field advantage tells in this tussle. Best game in the state this week.

Little Rock Hall 20, Blytheville 6. Chicks don't have enough strength to stop the leaders.

Hot Springs 7, Texarkana 0. Hogs scoreless for fifth time.

Fayetteville 26, Springdale 6. Should be easy for Bulldogs.

Subiaco 20, Harrison 12. Could go either way.

Rogers 32, Huntsville 0. A walk-off score for the Bulldogs.

Forrest City 13, Marianna 0. Mustangs rebound from loss to Helena.

Helena 27, Brinkley 0. Indians remain unscathed.

Jonseboro 19, West Memphis 0. Not easy for the Hurricane.

Paragould 7, Newport 6. Tossup.

Wynne 20, Stuttgart 7. Ricebirds to put up a good fight.

Benton 27, Mablevale 0. No contest.

Conway 20, Little Rock Catholic 7. Cats get revenge for past beatings on this year's apparently "down" Rockets.

Morrilton 13, Russellville 6. Experience, better opposition tell.

Malvern 7, Camden 0. Malvern rebounds after loss to Hope.

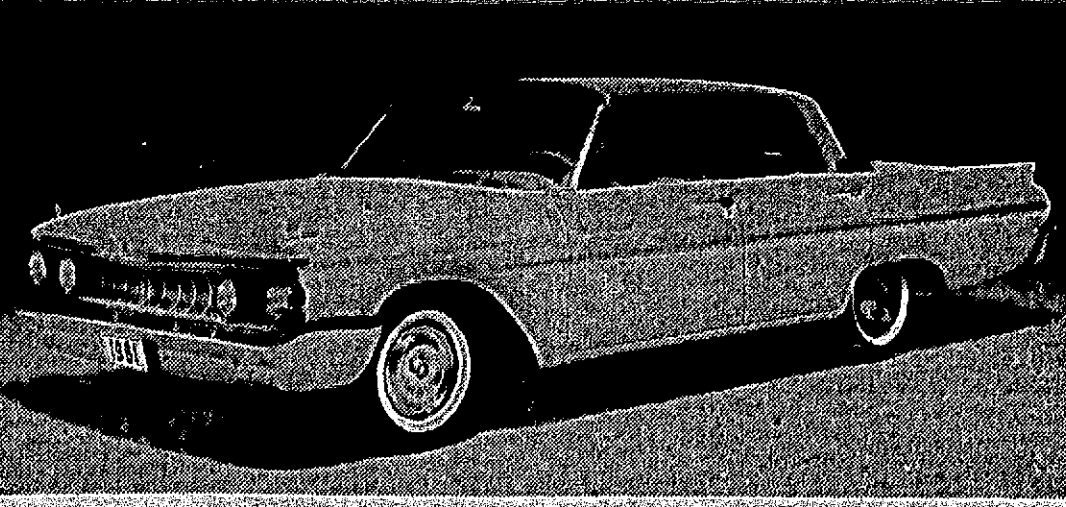

Crossell 27, Hope 14. Eagles roll toward 4AA title.

Camden Fairview 19, Arkadelphia 6. No. 3 for improving Cardinals.

De Queen 6, Magnolia 0. Tough Class A Leopards too much for weak Panthers.

Smackover 13, Homer, La. 0. Third straight for rebounding Bucks.

The Nova Scotian town of Antigonish gets its name from a Micmac Indian word meaning "the place where branches were torn off trees by bears gathering beechnuts."

Mercury for 1961 offers a completely new line of cars, with two series that are priced squarely into competition in the low-price field. The new Mercurys are 4 1/2 inches shorter and 1 1/2 inches narrower, yet they retain Mercury's reputation for interior comfort, riding qualities and distinctive styling. Fourteen models with a wide selection of engine and transmission options are offered, including the first six-cylinder engine in Mercury history. Pictured is the Meteor 600, four-door sedan.

Roast Beef Good Bet at Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Look for roast beef on your dinner table this weekend if the food shopper at your house is looking for bargains.

A wide variety of beef cuts hit the headlines in supermarket advertising over a wide area this week. Seven- and 10-inch rib roasts are featured in New England, the middle Atlantic states, Midwest and Far West at prices 4 to 10 cents a pound below last week.

Round steak also is pushed in the Midwest while specials in ground beef are advertised in the middle Atlantic and Far West states.

There's more to the emphasis on beef than the usual idea of offering good red meat. The U.S. Department of Agriculture slaughter report showed that beef production so far this year was up a percent over a year ago.

Leg of lamb is featured in some areas while fryers, down 2 to 7 cents a pound, are specials in other places.

Eggs still are climbing with prices at one chain's New York metropolitan area stores ranging from 47 to 77 cents a dozen for whites, 14 to 20 cents a dozen more than a year ago.

Potatoes head the best buy list. The fall crop is expected to run 6 per cent larger than last year and 12 per cent above the recent year's average.

Other outstanding vegetable buys include cabbage, cauliflower, celery, eggplant, endive, escarole, lettuce, yellow onions, nearby peppers, parsnips, watercress, cranberries and sweet potatoes.

You can get good buys, too, from brussels sprouts, beans, broccoli, carrots, corn, cucumbers, radishes, spinach and squash.

Fairly expensive tags are put on artichokes, green peas, okra and California peppers.

Best bet among fruits are McIntosh apples, grapes (especially the lokay variety), pears and small California oranges. Honeydew melons, fresh prunes, lemons and limes are rated food buys while the good quality Delicious apples are on the high side.

trained in Cuba in guerrilla warfare.

The testimony was given to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee by Capt. Alfonso Manuel Rojo Roche, also known as Manuel Rojo del Rio. He appeared at a closed-door hearing last January soon after resigning from the Cuban armed forces.

In his testimony, made public today, Roche said guerrilla training courses for the Cuban forces are attended by men from several Central and South American nations.

Specifically, he listed the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Guatemala, Salvador, and Costa Rica.

"I don't know for certain, but I am sure that there are representatives of all the countries that have dictators where Fidel would like to move in," Roche testified.

He was asked if these men, after finishing the training courses, returned to their own countries.

"Most of them, yes," he replied.

defeat, however, and Verwoerd had not yet claimed a victory.

Dutch-born Verwoerd has declared that he will consider a majority of only one vote a mandate to submit to the Nationalist-controlled Parliament legislation to turn South Africa into a republic, substituting an elected president for Queen Elizabeth II as chief of state and recognizing the British sovereign only as head of the Commonwealth.

Verwoerd says he hopes to keep South Africa in the Commonwealth as a republic, as India, Pakistan and Ghana have remained. But this will require the unanimous consent of the other 10 member governments, and Asian and African members have shown strong signs of wanting to expel South Africa in retaliation for the Nationalist government's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

amendment and against retention of the reference to Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

Khrushchev had also shown his opposition to talking with Eisenhower by setting conditions, he knew the President would not meet. Apparently unconcerned about the outcome of either the neutralist resolution or the Australian amendment, the Soviet leader did not attend the long, wrangling night session of the Assembly.

Instead, he busied himself playing billiard with well met at receptions given by Cambodia, India and Romania. He invited Prince Norodom Sihanouk, head of the Cambodian government, to visit him in Moscow. The prince did not immediately accept.

The West meanwhile mounted a counteroffensive to Communist maneuvers in and out of the U.N. Qualifications Needed, Lodge Says

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Qualifications to direct U.S. foreign relations is the major issue of the campaign, Henry Cabot Lodge said Tuesday night.

Lodge said that Richard M. Nixon, who the Republican presidential and vice-presidential nominees have the qualifications.

Nixon has gained the experience as vice president, Lodge said, and he gained it in eight years as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The bartender greeted him amiably, but told him that the way he was dressed he'd better go to the beer parlor downstairs.

Novelist Ernest Hemingway just in from a bear hunting trip in northern British Columbia, shrugged his shoulders and went up to his room.

Confidence in Business Is Unshaken

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The administration's confidence in the business outlook is shaken but unbowed. It is notably stronger than that expressed by many business and banking economists and by the fainthearted traders in the stock market.

The fiscal authorities spell out in dollars and cents their expectations of a business pickup in the making.

This is the positive side of this week's revision in U.S. budget prospects. The negative side is the acceptance of the fact that business profits have declined and thus undercut January's high hopes for much bigger treasury collections this year.

But to arrive at their new view, the fiscal experts start with the assumption that the bottom has been reached in the profit decline of the last six months. Earnings will have to increase rather than go on declining the rest of this year and the first part of 1961 if the Treasury is to collect in income taxes on corporate profits the total in the revised federal budget.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans is betting the Treasury will look for a fall business pickup perhaps better than usual.

This view calls for an increase in the gross national product, the total dollar volume of goods and services produced. This was running at a rate of $505 billion or less this summer. But Stans thinks it will go to $510 billion or more by the end of the year.

In January, the budget experts expected corporate taxes to reach $22.5 billion this year. Now they look for $22 billion less than that.

But many corporate economists, noting the sharp drop in profits from the first to second quarters this year, with only a holding action shown in the third quarter, say profits in the final three months will have to pick up better than now seems certain if the Treasury is to collect $21.5 billion this year.

Most of the drop in profits has been planned on rising costs when competition kept prices down. A turning point is as yet unsighted.

Much of the slump in business activity has been laid to corporate policy of cutting back on inventories when possible instead of adding to them.

Ammunition Thief Is in Danger

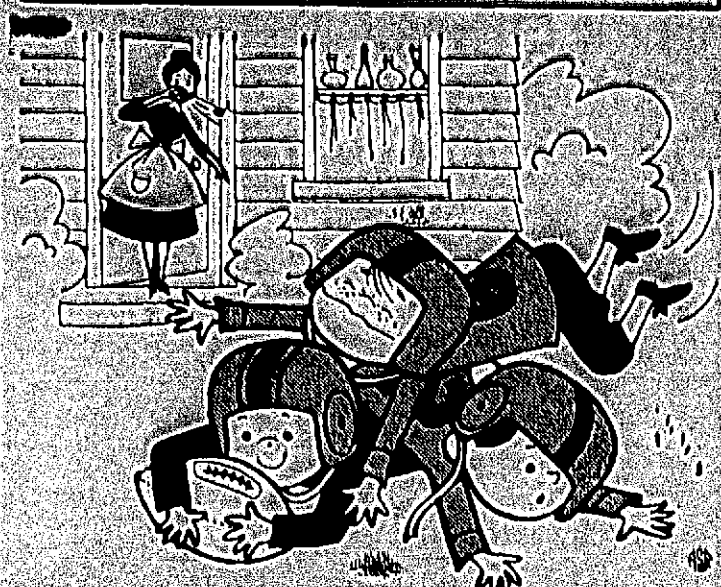

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The thief who stole about 300 rounds of .50-caliber ammunition from a military camp Sunday doesn't know what he's playing with.

A Little Rock Air Force Base spokesman says the shells are extremely dangerous and might be fatal if dropped or knocked together.

The Air Force is more concerned about the danger to the thief and to persons around him than it is about loss of the shells.

The thief can't use them anyway, unless he happens to own a B-47 jet bomber. The shells are of a type fired by the B-47's guns.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Time Called on Weighting

One blast from the referee's whistle during the heat of a game and everyone knows it's time to rest, to recoup strength, to review strategy. A call for time to weigh in women who are mothers-in-waiting comes from Dr. Samuel Wislik, Professor of Maternal and Child Health at the University of Pittsburgh. His advice: Take time out. Don't try to reduce during pregnancy without the careful guidance of your doctor.

As Dr. Wislik sees it, chief strategy at maternity time is to eat a balanced diet, not to worry about overweight. At a recent nutrition institute, he urged doctors, nutritionists, and nurses to focus on the diet and not on reading the scale. He advised that extreme care be taken in prescribing a reducing regime during pregnancy.

In guiding their patients through pregnancy, doctors advise them to follow diets which provide nutrients in amounts recommended by the top nutrition scientists in America, the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council. The Board's recommendation: For an average woman, add 300 calories to the diet which has kept her at an ideal weight—but only during the last half of pregnancy when there is an established need for extra calories.

Pregnancy increases the need for vitamins and minerals right from the start, long before that first trip to the doctor. This is why doctors often pare down the amount of sugar and fat to allow for more high-nutrient foods: Fruits and vegetables, enriched or whole grain bread or cereal, meat or alternates, milk or cheese.

Time for reducing is best called after pregnancy and lactation are over, for that's when overweight is most likely to be the winner. This explains some doctors' stress on a two-year dietary supervision... for the year of pregnancy and the year after.

Take Up a Collection to Kill Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the great ways to kill company time in the modern business office is to take up a collection for somebody.

In the old days you took up a collection for someone only when he died or retired.

Today any excuse will do. You take up a collection for a fellow if his sister-in-law develops a head cold or his son gets bad marks in high school algebra.

"Did you hear about poor old Charlie's trouble?" someone asks. And before you can find out what's ailing Charlie, three eager yeavers are already going around the office to raise a fund for him.

If you have ever taken up a collection yourself, the following types will surely be familiar:

1. The selfish realist—"I could drop dead in my swivel chair and nobody would even bother to mail me a postcard," he grumbles. "When are you going to take up a collection for me? That's what I'm interested in."
2. The fatalist—"Don't bother telling me what the collection is for," he says. "Just tell me how much you want from me."
3. The artful postponer—He has a reputation for being generous, but the truth is he hasn't actually contributed a nickel to an office collection in the last 15 years. His stock line: "Gee, I sure want to be in on this one, but I don't have any change with me. Be sure and look me up tomorrow. Now don't forget!"
4. The helpful soul—He makes no move toward his wallet, but has a lot of sound and sage advice on how you could do a better job of taking up the collection. "You'll get more if you wait until after lunch before hitting everybody up," he says. "People give more on a full stomach."
5. The topser—"You think old Charlie's got troubles?" he demands. "Let me tell you what real troubles are." If you spend 45 minutes listening to all the woes of his life, he will then grudgingly contribute a dime to your collection.
6. The tycoon—"I'll be glad to contribute 5—that is, if you honor credit cards," he says. "I haven't touched cash in years."
7. The big-talking, lightweight—"I'd like to oblige you but I can't," he says. "I am against group philanthropy. With me it's strictly a matter of principle."
8. The double dealer—"Lend me two bucks and I'll be glad to contribute one," he offers. You give him the two bucks and you never see either of them again. This guy actually makes a profit on every office collection—with your money.
9. The boss—it is awfully easy to identify him. If you're collecting quarter contributions, he's the guy who always hands you a 20 bill.
10. The rival—If you hand him a sheet of paper explaining why you are taking up a collection for good old Charlie, he whips a sheet of paper out of his pocket explaining why he is taking up a collection for good old Joe, who has even worse troubles.

Refuses Delay in Tax Case

BOSTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has refused to grant industrialist Bernard Goldfine, 70, a delay of his tax evasion trial because of his physical condition. His counsel said doctors fear a suicide attempt.

Goldfine's trial, which opened Monday in U. S. Dist. Court and was in recess Tuesday during arguments in the Court of Appeals, resumes today before Judge George C. Sweeney.

The textile executive, who became a free man Tuesday after serving a 90-day sentence for contempt of court, is charged with evading nearly $800,000 in taxes.

U. S. Leading Bread, Butter Space Flights

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dawn of Year 4 of the space age finds the United States leading in bread-and-butter space science. The Soviet Union ahead in spectacular desserts.

U.S. satellites have pioneered the way to use space for better weather forecasts, global communications, precise ship navigation. They have gleaned vast basic knowledge—more than the Soviets have disclosed from their probes at least—about radiations, meteoritic space dust, and other conditions in space.

The Soviet Union has hit the moon, photographed the back side of the moon, and bids to be first with a man into space.

The U.S.S.R. stunned the world three years ago Tuesday with Sputnik I. Her earlier development of powerful rockets gave her, and still gives her, the means of proud achievements.

A month later came Sputnik II, carrying the dog Laika, the first real public notice of serious and painstaking Soviet desire to send man beyond the shackles of gravity into space, to the moon or planets.

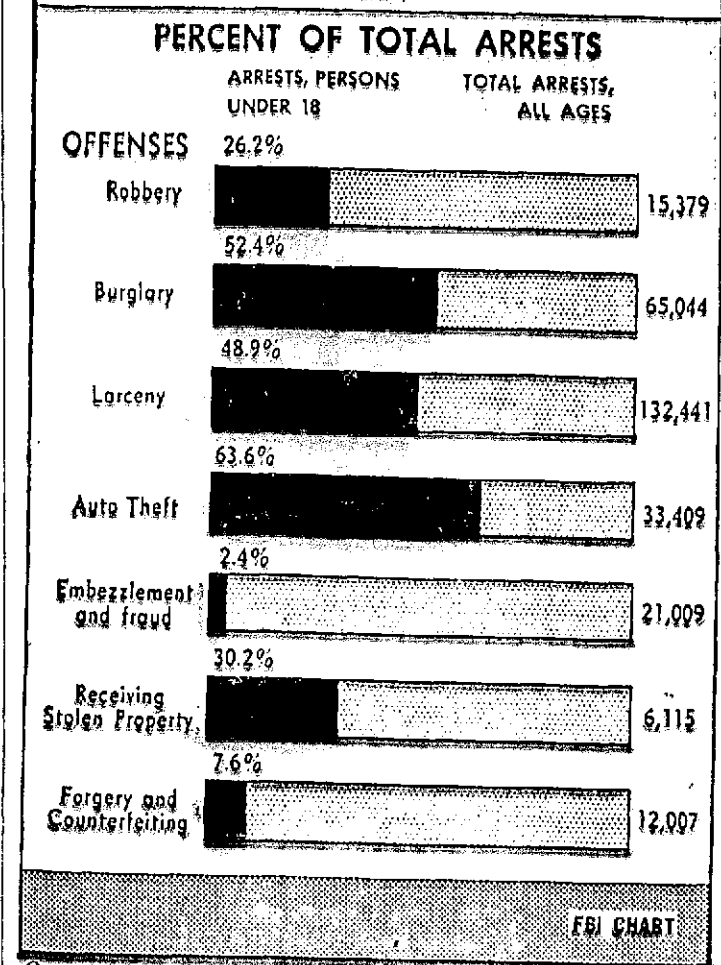

To date, the Soviet Union has put six satellites orbiting around the earth, one into the moon, another into orbit around the sun. She has recovered one satellite with a menagerie of animals to test safe human travel.

But 25 U.S. satellites have gone swinging around the earth—counting the new Courier 1B—and two others have become tiny planets of the sun. Two capsules have been recovered from space.

Speculations are that the Soviet Union is just around the corner from sending the first man into space. The United States still appears a year or more from this goal.

A Cook's Lucky Find— Golden Nugget Pie

Golden Nugget Pie is a recipe to treasure—and to use often, as wealth should always be used. It's a delicious combination of favorite foods—ground beef, cheese, and potatoes—that the family is almost guaranteed to call for more.

Ground beef is mixed with seasonings and cubes of American cheese, the "golden nuggets." Evaporated milk, eggs, and bread crumbs add extra nourishment and texture to the meat/loaf base. Accent brings out all the juiciness and good beef flavor. It also blends the flavors of beef, cheese, and spices, for a real "baked-in" taste.

Golden Nugget Pie

2 teaspoons Accent
2 pounds ground beef
1 cup evaporated milk
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 eggs
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 cup minced onion
4 ounces process American cheese, cut in cubes
1 envelope instant mashed potatoes

Sprinkle Accent over beef in mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients except instant potatoes. Mix with fork until blended. Turn into a 10-inch pie plate or shallow baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 60 minutes. Remove from oven. Increase heat to hot (450°F.). While meat is baking, prepare potatoes according to package directions. Put through pastry tube in lattice design on top of meat. Dot with butter. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Yield: 8 servings.

Case Against Firm Official Is Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An employment complaint against Alan C. Springer, former president of the now-bankrupt Arkansas Business Development Corp., was dismissed Tuesday in Municipal Court.

Judge Quinn Glover ordered the charge dropped after none of the three men who signed the complaint—Claude Carpenter, Jr., Roy Finch, Jr., and O.L. Daley Jr.—appeared in court to prosecute.

The complaint accused Springer of converting $2,250 in ABCD funds to his own use. Springer quit in February during a squabble with stockholders. Daley, Carpenter and Finch were members of a board of directors which operated the firm between Springer's resignation and the bankruptcy in May.

Lloyd Tamm, Springer's attorney, said the men "knew they

Goldfine to Get a Mental Test

BOSTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine, 70-year-old industrialist charged with federal tax evasion, today was ordered committed to a mental institution to be examined as to his mental competence to face trial.

U.S. Judge George G. Sweeney indicated that he would specify a institution and the name of a psychiatrist for the examination—the result of which may be transmitted to the U.S. District Court by next Tuesday.

Judge Sweeney denied a defense counsel's request that the examination be done on an outpatient basis so that a defense psychiatrist might also examine Goldfine. He also denied a request that Goldfine's personal physician have access to him.

"I didn't have a case against him (Springer) on this charge," Lee Carol, federal referee in bankruptcy, is holding a series of hearings into the firm's financial situation. Springer is scheduled to testify at a hearing next Monday.

Nikita Thinks Winner Will Agree

BY JOHN SCALI

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev appears to believe the next United States president will "swiftly agree" to meet with him at a brand new big four summit conference on world problems.

This Khrushchev view apparently explains why the Soviet leader appeared happy with the results of his cold war talk with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Tuesday. In sharp contrast with the British

A British spokesman said after ward "there has been virtually no change" in the rival Khrushchev-Macmillan views about how to crack the East-West disarmament deadlock.

But Khrushchev, surprisingly termed the results "very productive." Tuesday night, at a gala reception he gave for 400 top diplomatic guests, he repeated this view. The Soviet leader, chatting with newsmen, pointed to oil painting on the wall which showed an ice-choked river melting under a warm springtime sun.

Macmillan told him, he said, that the painting represents Britain's views about the future of Western-Soviet relations. Khrushchev, as well as Macmillan, may be due for a surprise in the attitude of the next American president toward a summit parley. Neither Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Sen. John F. Kennedy, in campaign talk, has given any sign he would rush to a summit meeting.

Khrushchev's bitter anti-Western offensive at the United Nations might make them even more reluctant to sit down with Khrushchev without advance signs that such talks would be productive.

Testimony Ends in Chapman's Trial

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP)—Department reported Tuesday. The victim, Mrs. William Barnes, was attacked Sunday. She grabbed the fox and a passerby killed it. Both Mrs. Williams and the man are taking anti-rabies treatments. Dr. Harvie Ellis, state veterinarian, said about 280 cases of animal rabies have been reported in Arkansas this year, compared to 104 for the same period in 1959.

Chapman, 84, is charged in the fatal shooting last fall of a white Jackson County. Prosecution testimony occupied the opening day of the trial Tuesday. The state said the shooting grew out of an argument over Chapman's home near Truman.

Chapman, who has entered plea of self defense, was expected to testify in his own behalf.

This case was expected to be an all-while, all-male jury to 104 for the same period in 1959.

Commission Opens Bids on Road Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission opened bids today on eight road bridge jobs. The total of apparent low bids was tabulated unofficially at $1,790,890.

Biggest job in the comparatively small letting is for widening of more than four miles of Highway 10 within the Little Rock city limits.

Ben M. Hogan & Co. of Little Rock was apparent low on this project with a proposal of $800,658.

The commission awards contracts late today.

Jobs by counties with apparent low bidders and their bids are:

Crittenden — 3.3 miles of gravel base course on Highway 38, between Thompson Grove and Sevely, W. C. Burrow Co., Malvern, $22,330.

Crittenden — Reconstruction of embankment slope and paving at grade separation about two miles west of West Memphis on Interstate Highway 40; Mississippi Valley Contracting Co., Paragould, $5,087.

Desha — Bridge and approaches at Canal 43 about 4 1/2 miles west of Kelson on Highway 138; B. S. W. Construction Co., Grenada, Miss., $63,123.

Pulaski — Widening and resurfacing of 4.4 miles of Highway 10 in Little Rock from La Harpe boulevard to the western city limits; Ben M. Hogan & Co., Little Rock, $800,658.

Loneoke — Surfacing of 8.67 miles of Highway 89 between Cahoon and Bayou Two Prairie; Freshour Corp., Sweet Home, $231,242.

Pulaski — Parallel bridges over Fourche Creek and railroad spur as part of the new Little Rock Pine Bluff Road, Highway 65; E. Barber Construction Co., Fort

Woman Shoots Man to Death

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—William Alfred Lloyd, 33, of Russellville, was shot to death early today at the home of Mrs. Annie Wilson, 15 miles west of here.

Deputy Sheriff Lyle Gilbert said Mrs. Wilson's daughter, Ann Mayo, 35, told officers she shot Lloyd when he tried to break down the door of the house after threatening to kill all its occupants.

No charges were filed against the woman, who told officers Lloyd had threatened the family several times before.

Lloyd was struck in the groin with a charge from a 12 gauge shotgun. He bled to death.

Gilbert quoted the family as saying Lloyd telephoned from Russellville about 1:10 a.m. to tell them he was coming.

They said he arrived about 3 a.m. and began making threats.

ROTC at U of A Picks 'Queen'

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Sharon Cherry of Jonesboro is the Army ROTC unit's honorary cadet colonel at the University of Arkansas.

The freshman beauty was named Tuesday from about 26 contestants.

Claudette Smith of Star City, the current Miss Arkansas, who also is university freshman, was one of five runners-up, who were named honorary lieutenant colonel.

Smith, $574,716.

Washington — Bridge and approaches at Lee Creek on Highway 170 in Devil's Den State Park; A. K. McBridge, Fort Smith, $56,240.

Baxter — 1.5 miles of surfacing on a county road from junction of Highway 62 to near Tabert's Landing on Lake Norfolk; North West Arkansas Asphalt Co., Fayetteville, $37,339.

Plastics Give Boys Room To Grow

Little boys are sometimes noisy as a trumpet and a drum, rarely careful, often tough as a bat, and always wonderful. . . quite a challenge in long range planning for mother. Her investment must grow with the boy and her everyday chores be kept at a minimum. The ideal boy's room makes imaginative use of color, is furnished for rest and play, and is scrubbable.

Handwriting on the wall poses no problem with the new washable and flexible plastic wallcoverings which resist scuffing, tears and spots. The young man of the house likes patterns of striped wood-grains, tweedy textures or straw weaves that come in 20 colors, are applied like wallpaper.

Mother also knows active young feet track in "loads" of dirt. Easy-care vinyl plastic flooring is practically a must in a boy's room. Today there's a wider-than-ever selection of patterns and colors in about ten types of vinyl flooring for permanent or "loose lay" installations. Once over lightly with a damp mop, and an occasional light coat of wax, keeps these plastic floor coverings sparkling clean.

Shelves for toys, dresser and desk tops surfaced with melamine laminate plastic, and chairs upholstered with vinyl, are prepared for food spills and countless washings. Cotton bedspreads and curtains require no pampering. They go right into the automatic washer, as does Junior's personal laundry, along with detergent and fabric-soft dry chlorine bleach.

THE STORY: Food is difficult to obtain on or off the black market in Rome in 1944, and Cicco, a member of the Italian underground, is hard-pressed to obtain provisions for a feast in honor of his daughter Rosalba's engagement.

CHAPTER XVI

Wednesday evening Maria contributed nearly 40 firm, fresh, yellow onions and a pocketful of garlic. But again it was Livio who put the prize package on the kitchen table: sugar! "Those two words," the boy said pointing to two small packages on the table, "mean one kilo." Even Rosalba smiled, and Dedda stared at the sugar with large, greedy eyes.

At eight o'clock the family sat down to a meal of yellow turnips, cabbage and carrots—that is, all but Livio.

"Lallo again—that boy," sighed Clementina angrily.

Suddenly Cicco remembered Livio talking about the German slaughterhouse, and his throat choked up with fear.

"Where is the German slaughterhouse?" he asked Maria as casually as possible.

"In Testaccio, I think, near the bridge."

"Not to frighten the others, he took two more mouthfuls of carrots before he stood up and said, 'I'm not hungry. I think I'll walk over to Ronzo's.'"

"Be careful," warned Clementina. "Be in before curfew." He slipped out of the house slowly, but once he had closed the front door he hurried down the steps as fast as his belly would permit, running and walking by turns, he headed down the river toward Testaccio.

As he passed the end of Via Beniamino Franklin he could make out in the dusk the Testaccio itself, that heap of broken Roman pottery as high as a 10-story building. He noticed two or three people excitedly rushing up the street. A loud whistle blew in the distance followed by five or six shots and the rat-tat of small automatic arms.

Around the curve of the Lungotevere seven or eight women came running toward him from the direction of the Testaccio Bridge, the first two carrying live bombs in their arms. When the entrance of the bridge itself came into view, he saw what seemed a group of more women and boys of Livio's age fleeing helter-skelter onto the bridge.

Inside his own front door the Cicco pulled himself up short, wondering whether it was better to turn back the way he had come or to swim the river, cold as it was in April. As he stood debating, a small figure, his head low, rushed out of a dark alleyway, and, bumping into him, fell sprawling to the ground. With a frightened gasp a baby lamb detached itself from the prone figure and gambled off toward the bridge.

The figure—a boy—glared up at him angrily. It was Livio. "Uh! Scusa, Papa!" He scrambled to his feet looking for the lamb. German commands echoed down the street. "Hurry! The Germans! The police! To the bridge!"

"The river is better. They may recognize you," Cicco grabbed the boy by his hair and towed him across the Lungotevere to the wall above the river. "Up on the wall. Take hold of my wrists—that's right. Now I'm going to let you down as far as I can. You'll have about four meters to drop. Swim over and go right home. But carry your shoes; don't lose them or I'll box your ears."

He let go; without waiting to see the boy land, he turned and walked as unconcerned as possible back toward the Ponte Aventino.

At the curve in the river he saw the Germans had blocked the way.

"Documenti," demanded a corporal of the SS sharply; his three companions, their backs against the Tiber wall, covered the street with their guns. Without a word Cicco handed him his identity card. "Where've you been?" asked the German without looking up from the document.

"For a walk along the river," Cicco replied.

"Put everything from your pockets there on the wall," he obeyed: keys, money, the old Conte's watch, his mason's union card, a small penknife, a red coral charm in the shape of a horn, his blue bandanna handkerchief and a few toothpicks. "Your hands up over your head!" The German frisked him thoroughly. "Now hold out your hands." The German smelled them carefully. "They don't smell like sheep. Go home!"

Cicco replied with the only German words he knew. "Danke, Herr."

air was charged with fear and anger. Before he could ask, "Is Livio home?" he saw the boy's clothes, wrung out and hanging from an improvised clothesline across the room.

"Where is he?" said Cicco, addressing the family in general.

"In his bed," hissed Clementina. "I slapped him and sent him to bed with nothing to eat. I was just playing with the boys, Mamma, and fell in." She mimicked his tone of feigned innocence. "I'll play him with the broomstick!" A note of whining entered her voice. "As if there isn't enough trouble—no food, no clothes, and today no charcoal for the stove."

"Go make him something to eat in a hurry, and send it in to me. And whip up one of those four eggs for him, with some of that sugar—"

"But Papa—" Rosalba began Cicco turned on her angrily and wagged his finger under her nose. "If I see a tear or hear a sob out of you—you'll come to your engagement party with a black eye."

Suggests a Ballad to Fugitives

By BOB HARING
Associated Press Staff Writer

There's a song in Arkansas just waiting to be written. It could even be a hit.

It concerns the story of Joe Hildebrand, the 24-year-old fugitive from prison who has eluded capture in the Ozark Mountains along with an 18-year-old girlfriend, Callie. "The Ballad of Joe Hildebrand."

This is not to approve in any way any of his actions. He undoubtedly is illegally out of prison and, according to police, is responsible for a considerable bit of outlaws in northern Pope County.

But moralists could find little to approve in the actions of Jesse James or Billy the Kid (or Wyatt Earp as far as that goes. Television notwithstanding). Yet these characters have passed into the realm of folklore, largely because of backhills ballads written about them.

Folk music offers dozens of parallels, of course, where the bandit and his love are romanticized into legend.

The story of Hildebrand and the girl, 18-year-old Frances Standridge of Dover, certainly offers fertile ground for potential songwriters. It has romance, mystery and drama.

Hildebrand, of course, fled into the hills last November instead of returning to state prison from a three-day furlough. He eluded periodic police traps and chases, often displaying considerable daring and cunning.

Then on Sept. 5 the Standridge girl slipped out of her home, carrying a .22 caliber rifle, and joined Hildebrand in the woods. Since then police activity has picked up.

Dogged state troopers have vowed to keep after Hildebrand until they get him. Hildebrand, officers report, supposedly has vowed he won't be taken alive.

Right now you could put any sort of ending on it you wanted, since the real-life ending hasn't been written. Or you could leave it hand until one side or the other wins out in the inevitable showdown.

The tune, of course, should be for guitar. Arkansas' own Jimmy Driftwood, a prolific ballad writer and folk singer, is a natural for the project, of course, but he has no monopoly on the story.

And with the recent popularity of folk music, a song with just the right touch of romance, drama and pathos conceivable could catch the public fancy.

Anybody care to try?

A Little Rock woman has decided her first venture into politics wasn't very profitable.

A Democrat and supporter of Sen. John Kennedy, she decided so see that all the neighbors had paid their poll taxes so they could vote. She trotted off down the street and sure enough, found a couple who hadn't paid the poll tax.

"They thanked the woman for reminding them of the approaching deadline—then told her they intended to vote for Vice President Nixon, the Republican."

And then there was the self-described "True Southern Conservative" who referred to Sen. Barry Goldwater as "that sort of liberal fellow from Arizona."

Gunman Holds Up Finance Company

MEMPHIS, (AP)—Police hunted today for a soft-spoken gunman who held up a finance company Tuesday and fled with $1,000 in cash.

Mrs. Mary Badgette, 29, a cashier, was alone in the office when the bandit entered and ordered her to hand over all the cash on hand.

The gunman's description fitted that given by employees of two other finance companies which were held up in recent months.

air was charged with fear and anger. Before he could ask, "Is Livio home?" he saw the boy's clothes, wrung out and hanging from an improvised clothesline across the room.

"Where is he?" said Cicco, addressing the family in general.

"In his bed," hissed Clementina. "I slapped him and sent him to bed with nothing to eat. I was just playing with the boys, Mamma, and fell in." She mimicked his tone of feigned innocence. "I'll play him with the broomstick!" A note of whining entered her voice. "As if there isn't enough trouble—no food, no clothes, and today no charcoal for the stove."

"Go make him something to eat in a hurry, and send it in to me. And whip up one of those four eggs for him, with some of that sugar—"

"But Papa—" Rosalba began Cicco turned on her angrily and wagged his finger under her nose. "If I see a tear or hear a sob out of you—you'll come to your engagement party with a black eye."

Dessert Tip-Off

Tip-off: Fruited Orange Sauce on gingerbread or cake makes a handsome, delicious dessert for family and company. Dressed up here for company the gingerbread was baked in a ring mold, center filled with the colorful sauce and a few orange slices used for garish. The gingerbread may be made also in a pan and cut in squares. It's good served hot with cold sauce. You'll like the sauce on most any kind of unfrosted cake, and with that bit left over make Fruited Orange Sundaes.

Fruited Orange Sauce On Gingerbread

1 pkg. gingerbread mix 1 cup orange juice
1/2 cup sugar 1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch 1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt Orange sections (optional)
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
Prepare gingerbread following package directions. Pour into a greased and floured 6-cup ring mold. (Or use a deep cake or loaf pan.) Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes, until done. Let stand 10 minutes, loosen from pan and invert on cake rack to cool. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in a saucepan. Add orange rind and juice, and 1/2 cup syrup drained from fruit cocktail, mixing until smooth. Cook until thickened and clear, stirring. Add lemon juice and drained fruit cocktail; chill. Put gingerbread on serving plate and fill center with fruit sauce. Garnish with orange sections, if desired. Eight to ten servings.

Peace Talks Fail to End GE Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Peace talks to end the General Electric Co. strike have failed in the midst of union efforts to consolidate its position with its own members and with other unions.

Federal mediators met with company representatives and officials of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers Tuesday. It was the first session since the nationwide walkout started last Saturday night.

IUE President James B. Carey described the talks as "fruitless." A GE spokesman said the company did not change its position and "had no intention of doing so."

Both sides will meet with mediators here Thursday.

Picket line disorders erupted at many of the 5 GE plants where the IUE has 77,000 members.

Other developments Tuesday: IUE members at GE's largest plant, at Schenectady, N. Y., voted to join the walkout and set up picket lines Thursday. A union local spokesman said more than 60 per cent of its 8,700 members had signed a petition to strike earlier, the local, No. 301, the unions largest, had voted not to strike. The plant employs 20,000 workers.

Chiefs of other unions have been called to a meeting in Washington to discuss support of the GE strike. George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he will meet with Carey, Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers steelworkers President David McDonald; Al Hayes, head of the Machinists Union; and others.

The IUE filed a new unfair labor practice charge with the National Labor Relations Board. The union charged that a GE plant manager at Schenectady had offered to continue the expired contract if the union members voted not to strike.

The old work contract expired last Saturday.

Behind the strike is a dispute over the terms of a new pact, including wages and a cost-of-living clause.

Defense Testimony in Judge's Case

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Defense witnesses testify today in the trial of Fort Smith Municipal Judge James L. Langston on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor female.

The prosecution rested its case Tuesday after presenting 16 witnesses.

One of Tuesday's witnesses, Policeman Eddy McLaughlin, testified that Langston once tried to arrange dates for him and Langston with two 17-year-old girls.

McLaughlin said the dates were not arranged.

Langston was indicted by a grand jury which investigated charges made prior to the July 26 Democratic primary, when he was defeated for the chancellor's nomination by incumbent Franklin Wilder.

Wilder and three other men indicted on charges of conspiring to defraud a minor female to make statements degrading to her name next Monday.

Says U. S. Must Expand Economy

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The United States' economy must expand rapidly in the next few years, or it won't support the platform of either major political party, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., declared today.

McClellan predicted that implementing either of the platforms would increase national expenditures $12 billion a year.

The senator, addressing a breakfast celebrating the Arkansas Livestock Exposition and the Arkansas poultry industry, did not discuss specific proposals in either platform, but he said, "If we're going to spend at this rate, we'll have to keep the economy expanding fast enough to support it."

West Knows More About Kremlin Now

By WILLIAM L. RAY, N. Associated Press News Analyst
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—An important factor in Nikita Khrushchev's setbacks at the United Nations seems to have been a growing Western awareness of what makes the Kremlin tick.

There is general agreement among most informed Westerners that the Soviet Premier demanded far more than he expected to get in his major offensive against Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and the world organization's structure. It is now becoming apparent that he overplayed his hand.

Having lost a cold war round the Russians—if they run true to form—probably now will lay down a heavy verbal artillery barrage to cover a tactical retreat.

Khrushchev's angry words and actions in the General Assembly aroused fears the Russians were prepared to wreck the U.N. if they found they could not run it to suit themselves.

But there are grave risks at this moment in trying to destroy the world peace organization. The chances are that Khrushchev, weighing those risks, will attempt to salvage what he can and present what is left to his people at home as a victory for Soviet policy. In some respects, in fact, Khrushchev may consider he has won something important.

Khrushchev, a man with a peasant background, seems to view world politics as something like plain, old-fashioned horse trading. Horse trader Khrushchev sought to eliminate obstacles the U.N. had placed in the Soviet path in Africa's Congo. He demanded the top price—Hammarskjöld's resignation and a new U.N. command setup that would give Moscow a veto over its actions.

It is doubtful Khrushchev expected to get this. But he may think he can make things so hot for Hammarskjöld that the U.N. chief will resign, and for all practical purposes the U.N.'s peace-making machinery will be paralyzed for a long time by inability of the West and the Russians to agree on a successor.

That would suit Khrushchev's immediate purposes. Serious obstacles in the way of the Russians in situations like that of the Congo would be removed.

of man-in-space flights.

The agreement will be a present ed, probably Thursday, to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, which for more than 50 years has been the official world judge of airplane records.

Business Is Good Claims Government

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today held to its claim that the business outlook is good despite a sharp cutback in anticipated revenues.

The reduction almost wholly in corporation income taxes, combined with a rise in government spending to slash from $4.2 billion to $1.1 billion the administration's estimate of the treasury surplus expected at the end of the current fiscal year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans announced the revised estimate Tuesday. The government usually reviews its budget figures after Congress adjourns, but this year its report plumped into the middle of a presidential election campaign in which the present and future of the nation's economy is an issue.

Stans said the economy is now operating at a high level. He anticipated a perhaps better than usual pickup in business for the last three months of this year and said government and other economists are expressing no alarm about the first two quarters of next year.

That would round out the fiscal year which ends next June 30.

For the 1960-61 fiscal year, the Budget Bureau gave these new estimates:

Receipts, $81.5 billion, down $2.5 billion from the originally expected $84 billion; expenditures, $80.4 billion, up $600 million from the original $79.8 billion; new spending authority voted by Congress, $82 billion, up $2.6 billion from the original $79.4 billion.

President Eisenhower announced the previous estimates when he sent his budget recommendation to Congress last January. He suggested then that all the surplus be used to reduce the national debt, which now totals about $289 billion.

Stans said the Democratic-controlled Congress boosted expenditures and reduced government income by about $2 billion. Part of this will be offset by trimming expenditures in some federal programs, he said.

A drop in corporation profits from the administrations rosy forecast of $51 billion in January accounted for 80 per cent of the downward revision in estimated revenue. The Treasury now puts the figure at $47 billion, same as last year's record.

New Satellite Is Chatterbox in the Sky

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — America's newest satellite — a veritable chatterbox in the sky — whirled around the world today, paving the way for a space-age communications system for U.S. military forces.

The 500-pound Courier 1B shot skyward Tuesday atop a Thor-Able Star rocket. It is circling the earth every 115 minutes in an orbit ranging from 575 to 750 miles above the surface.

As dramatic evidence of its success, the new space messenger was used within hours after launch to relay a teletype message of peace and good will from President Eisenhower to the United Nations.

The message was sent from Washington to Ft. Monmouth, N.J., where it was beamed to Courier 1B. The note then was transmitted to another ground station which relayed it by high-speed radio to New York. The President's message welcomed 16 new nations to the U.N. and expressed hope they would continue to witness such scientific advances as this new satellite.

A lapped congratulatory message from Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker also was relayed via the 51-inch sphere. Brucker said Courier 1B "represents a phenomenal advance in the field of communications."

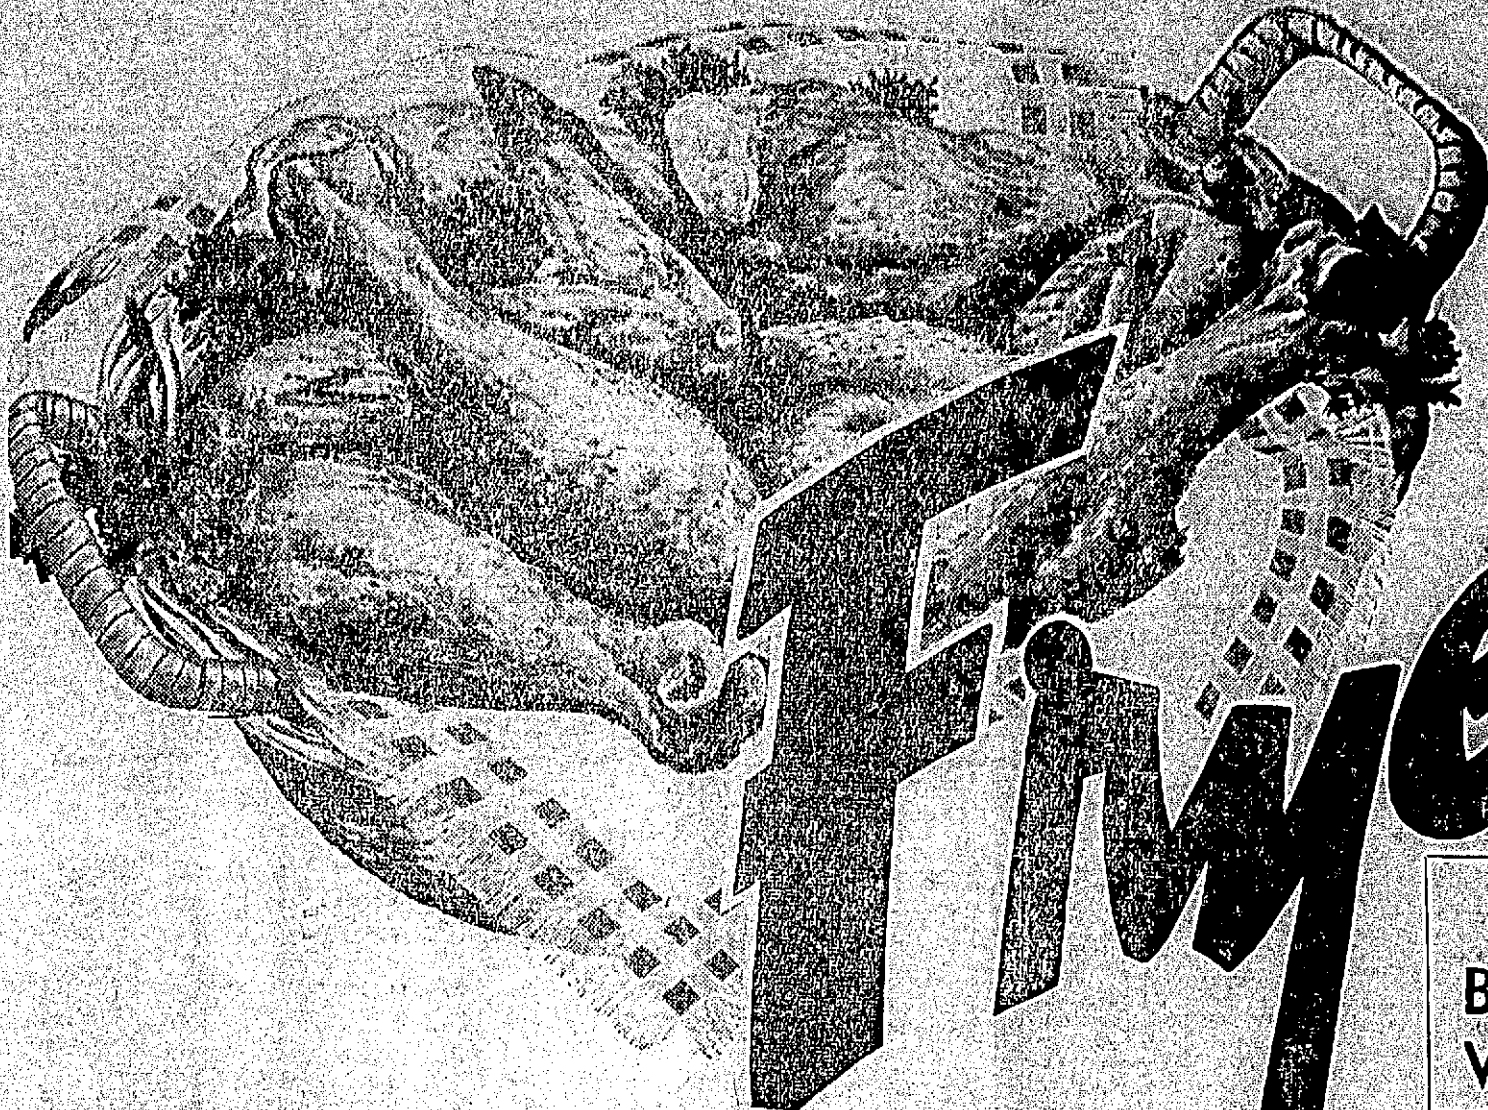

The satellite carries 300 pounds of the most complex electronic gear ever sent into space by the United States. At the heart of the system are five magnetic tape recorders capable of simultaneously receiving and transmitting 68,000 words a minute.

Courier 1B is designed primarily to receive and store teletype messages from one ground station and unload them on command from another.

The Army plans to bombard the satellite with millions of words in the coming days to completely prove out the system. Much of the wordage will be supplied by news wires of The Associated Press and United Press International.

If Courier 1B proves the feasibility of using such vehicles for swift movement of secret military information, the Defense Department plans a network of operational courier satellites within a few years.

America's first successful glass producer was Casper Wistar, who opened a glasshouse in Salem County, N. J., in 1739.
